LARGE COAL SHIPMENT DELAYED

Weather Conditions Responsible for Its Non-Arrival in Norwich—Five Cars Shipped to This City on Monday by Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company.

In a statement issued Wednesday night Martin E. Jensen, chairman of the local fuel committee, said that a large shipment of hard coal which was expected here this week has been delayed by weather conditions.

State Fuel Administrator Thomas R.
Russell has been urging Washington to provide coal for Norwich, and it was his understanding that through Mr. Russell's efforts the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company shipped five cars to Norwich on January 21st. The Lehigh Valley company loaded five cars for Norwich on the 22nd. On the 23rd, Wednesday, a barge was being loaded by the company. It is probable that the barge will be ready for shipment to Norwich by Thursday.

Just when these shipments will arrive here is largely problematical owing to freight and weather conditions, but every effort will be made to get them here as soon as possible.

At a meeting of the War Bureau of Norwich held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms Wednesday evening, winning Chairman Arthur F. Libby presiding, the following by-laws were drawn up and adopted:

Article I. Name. The name of the Bureau is "The Norwich War Bureau." Article II. Object. The objects of the War Bureau shall be: To act as the general agent of the Connecticut State Council of Defense in all matters relating to the war effort; to coordinate and co-operate as a bureau to eliminate duplications and waste effort in the prosecution of civilian war work; to arouse and maintain a spirit of sacrifice, service, and patriotism; and to engage in every worthy activity which may directly benefit the war effort, state and nation in the successful prosecution of the victorious termination of the war.

Article III. Officers. The administration of the War Bureau shall be entrusted to the directors, who shall be composed of the executive committee and the chairman of each committee of the War Bureau.

Section 2. The officers of the War Bureau shall be a chairman, a vice-chairman, a secretary, and a treasurer who shall for the duration of the war hereafter be elected annually by the directorate.

Section 3. The chairman shall preside at the meetings of the executive committee and of the directorate, or in the absence of the vice-chairman, may delegate this duty to some other member of the executive committee.

Section 4. In the absence of the chairman, his duties shall devolve upon the vice-chairman.

Section 5. The treasurer shall have charge of the funds of the War Bureau, and shall make necessary disbursements upon the written requisition of any member of the directorate.

Section 6. The secretary shall record the proceedings and appoint the committee and of the directorate of the War Bureau.

Section 7. There shall be an executive committee, consisting of the chairman, vice-chairman, secretary, and treasurer, and three others to be elected annually by the directorate. The executive committee may supplement its own membership by appointing a total membership of eleven, as may from time to time seem necessary or proper.

Section 8. The executive committee shall fill vacancies among the chairmen or among the chairmen of the various committees connected with the War Bureau.

Section 9. As soon as practicable after the annual election of officers, the executive committee shall appoint the chairman of the following standing committees, the chairmen of which shall serve until their successors are appointed: (a) finance committee; (b) public relations committee; (c) labor committee; (d) public transportation committee; (e) fuel committee; (f) information and recruitment committee; (g) foreign born population committee; (h) public population committee; (i) women's activities committee; (j) war savings work committee. The chairman of the various committees shall appoint their own members, and may appoint subcommittees, when necessary, to facilitate the work of the committee.

Section 10. The various standing committees shall be in accordance with work that has been or may be planned or outlined by The Connecticut State Council of Defense.

may increase the number of standing committees at any time as the executives of civilian war work may seem to make necessary or advisable.

Article V. Amendments. These by-laws may be amended by a majority vote of the executive committee presented at any regular meeting, provided a copy of all amendments together with a notice of the date of the meeting at which it is proposed to vote upon the same, shall be mailed to each member of the executive committee at least two days previous to the time at which it shall be voted upon.

Following the adoption of the by-laws and the election of officers, the following executive officers of the bureau were elected: Chairman, A. F.
Libby; vice chairman, Mayor Allyn Brown; secretary, Herbert R.
Brandegee; treasurer, Casper K. Bailey.

The matter of having employees of industrial plants, together with those of other large business interests spend a portion of the next ten Mondays, in accordance with the recommendation of the fuel administrator, in military drill was discussed at length. The matter was finally referred to Robert McNeely to make investigation and report at the next meeting of the bureau.

In accordance with instructions from the State Council of Defense, the question of the best means of financing the local bureau was taken up. It has been pointed out by the state organization that other towns with similar war bureaus have made appropriations to meet the necessary expenses which a town war bureau has. It is expected that the town of Norwich will follow the course adopted by other towns in the state and appropriate a sum of money to properly provide for this patriotic service.

After a report by Robert McNeely of the war convention held recently in Hartford at which Mr. McNeely was a delegate from the Norwich Bureau, the meeting adjourned.

CONTRACTOR DEL CARLO

Local Man Had Tools in Grotton House Destroyed by Flames.

Fire was discovered at about 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in a dwelling house on Fairview avenue, Grotton. The structure was destroyed together with the contents.

The house was an old building of one and one-half stories and was recently furnished by a contractor for some time until recently when the railroad company sold it to Morton Chapman, who was about ready to move it to the opposite side of the street.

Mr. Chapman rented the house to contractors who housed their Italian laborers there. It is said that the house was covered by smoke before he there was insurance on it.

There were several Italians in the house at the time, including the men who cook for the gang, and one of the men was overcome by smoke before he was taken from the building. He recovered quickly after reaching the air outside.

It is not known how the fire started, but it is thought it was due to a defective chimney.

The Grotton fire department responded to the alarm, but was unable to save the property.

The house was being raised preparatory to moving by men in the employ of Contractor Del Carlo of this city.
The fire which broke out in the upper story gained considerable headway before it was discovered.

Mr. Del Carlo lost all his material and tools except nine ties, one jack, and three bars. Included in the lost material were seven iron timbers and fifteen jacks upon which the house rested.

Mr. Del Carlo placed his loss at from $300 to $400. He has no insurance.
